The local magazine celebrating everything
that's great about life on the coast...

English Riviera Magazine is a magazine designed specifically for locals. It celebrates life along our spectacular coastline and contains top quality editorial and photos, which have that indefinable 'wow' factor.

A free, bi-monthly, glossy lifestyle publication with an elegant 'B5' format, it provides a wealth of inspiration and information about enjoying life on the English Riviera.

Everyone who loves the English Riviera will enjoy our fabulous features about major events, food and drink, the arts, theatre, history, heritage, leisure, the natural world within our Global Geopark, wildlife, local people and a hugely popular What's On Section. The 'buy local' message is embedded in everything we do.

English Riviera Magazine is written by residents for residents and published by highly experienced magazine professionals Anita Newcombe and Julian Rees who have over 35 years of delivering inspiration to readers and superb value to advertisers across the South West.

What our advertisers say...

Richard Ward, Managing Director, Sandalwood Flooring

"We have been using the Riviera Magazine for over two years now to promote the expansion of our service into the Bay area. It has, without doubt been an unqualified success in bring our brand to the attention of both the commercial and domestic market in the locality. Julian's expertise, dedication and professionalism has been ever present and ensures that our company is well showcased within the publication"

James Twigger BSc(Hons) ACA, Director, Accounting4Everything

"Advertising in The English Riviera Magazine has helped to raise our profile across Torbay and beyond. As a new business, with a limited marketing budget, we have found it fantastic value for money, with no charge for design assistance, and been blown away with the number of enquiries it generates."

Daniel Darlow, Owner, Coastal Cleaning Services/Devon Leather Care

"The quality of the magazine is a credit to you all, and the enquiries I have received from my adverts have all come to fruition because of that. I look forward to another good year."

Tracey Waygood, Business Development Manager, Wollen Michelmore

"We have been advertising within the English Riviera Magazine since August 2013 and have always found working with Julian to be an easy experience. He is accommodating and creative and helps us to produce articles that are suitable for the audience. One recent article produced 3 leads from readers. You can't beat that success!"

Nicky Allen, Marketing for Three Degrees West and Babbacombe Cliff Railway

"Julian and Anita are always such a joy to work with. Plus the quality of what they do is excellent."

What our readers say... (2019 Reader Survey)

Mrs T, Wellswood

"Very professional - love the glossy format."

Mr G, Torquay

"We look forward to it being delivered and read it cover to cover."

Mrs S, Paignton

"It's the one place where I can find out what's on at theatres, arts, crafts and restaurants."

Miss C, Broadsands

"I always read all the adverts - for their contents - which are attractively and colourfully displayed."

Distribution

English Riviera Magazine is privately delivered to local homes directly through the door and we've been getting great feedback about this distribution model from our advertisers. Homes on our delivery route include Torquay, St Marychurch, Babbacombe, Livermead, Cockington, Paignton, Brixham, Galampton and Kingswear. They are also distributed to businesses throughout the area and there are local pickup points for people not on our delivery route. 15,000 copies are distributed per issue giving a bi-monthly estimated readership of 90,000 readers across the Bay based on National Readership Survey averages for similar publications. English Riviera is now one of the biggest readership and fastest growing local magazines in Devon. Digital editions of the magazine are available free to all visitors to our website and feature links to both editorial and advertiser websites.
